

BIOGRAPHY OF GOVERNOR LOLO MATALASI MOLIGA

Born in the village of Taū. Manu'a and currently resides in Tafuna. American Samoa. His parents are the late High Chief MOLIGA Sa'ena Auauna Moliga of Taū. and Soali'i Galea'i of Fitiuta and Olosega.

EDUCATION

- San Diego State University, Masters degree in Public Administration
- Chardon College, Nebraska, Bachelors degree in teaching
- Graduated Manu'a High School, Taū, Manu'a
- Attended Samoana High School when Manu'a did not have a High School
- Papatea Junior Elementary in Taū, Manu'a

PROFESSIONAL CAREER

- President, Development Bank, American Samoa Government
- President, Senate, Legislature of American Samoa
- Chief Procurement Officer, Procurement Office, American Samoa Government
- Served as Chief Procurement Officer under two administrations
- Director, Program Planning and Budget, American Samoa Government
- Representative, House of Representative, Legislature of American Samoa four consecutive terms (8 years)
- Committee Chairman, House Budget and Appropriation Committee
- Traveled with respective members of the Legislature, Budget Officer and Treasurer to testify before the US Congress on the American Samoa Budget
- Department of Education, American Samoa Government
Department of Education Main Office Secondary Administrator
High School Principal, Manu'a High School
Vice-Principal, Manu'a High School
Principal, Lau'i'i Elementary School
Teacher, Manu'a High School

PERSONAL HISTORY

Lolo is a High Talking Chief from the village of Sili, Manu'a. Prior to accepting the Lolo title he was a High Chief holding the title of Letalu from Taū. HTC Lolo served the Manu'a aumaga for many years before he was titled. HTC Lolo is a Deacon of the Congregational Christian Church of American Samoa in Tafuna. HTC Lolo is married to Cynthia Malala of the village of Pago. They have two sons, Va'a Matalasi and Eteuati Sola, and two daughters, Muaiao Moliga Fakalata and Lealofisa Moliga Tilei and two grandchildren.